Our website uses a number of cookies. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we put on your computer that allow us to distinguish you from other users of the website which helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site.

Some cookies we use are 'analytical' cookies. They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around the site when they're using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example by making sure users are finding what they need easily.

You may decide to block cookies from our site – please be aware that doing so may prevent some areas of the site from functioning correctly.
